Area 1 Agency on Aging

2008-2009 Annual Report

Promoting Independence for a Lifetime
As the Area 1 Agency on Aging prepares to enter its fourth decade of service to the people of Humboldt and Del Norte counties, the twin realities of increased need experienced by increasing numbers of seniors, people with disabilities, their families and caregivers, and inadequate and declining funding present ongoing and critical challenges. This year a faltering State economy produced a series of difficult decisions—decisions that, when implemented in our communities, altered, stretched and, in some respects, tore the fabric of support for some of the most vulnerable segments of our population. Programs serving fragile and at-risk seniors were eliminated; collaborative efforts with our sister organizations were jeopardized; services for the frail and endangered were reduced. As a result we have found Agency services increasingly sought and ever more crucial as other services have been eliminated or have seen their effectiveness wane.

The Agency Board of Directors and Advisory Council, staff and volunteers remain committed to the preservation and enhancement of these essential services and programs—support that helps seniors live at home, safe, healthy and independent.

Against this backdrop of growing need and funding reductions, we can take pride in a number of accomplishments. In partnership with The California Endowment, we completed our first year of a multi-year grant-funded process of information-gathering through paper and on-line surveys and Town Hall meetings that will result in the development of a useful model for data collection. We began to develop the Project for Senior Action advocacy program—also funded through The California Endowment. When State of California budget considerations demanded effective representation for seniors, we moved quickly to serve as a reliable and timely conduit of information, conveying seniors’ concerns and opinions to Sacramento. As proposed budget reductions became a discouraging reality, we re-allocated our staff resources, combined programs, streamlined our functional hierarchy and cross-trained our staff. We consolidated all Humboldt County programs and offices in one building, beginning with a move of administrative staff on June 29, 2008 and culminating, eight months later, with an official Open House on March 19, 2009. We partnered with the FCC to help seniors retain their connection to their communities through the transition to digital television broadcasting. We re-formed the North Coast Senior Services Collaborative as a vehicle for program and service partnership in these unpredictable times. And we continued to provide service and assistance, support and advocacy through our HICAP, Caregiver Services, Senior Information and Assistance, and Volunteer Services programs.

We expect that the challenges facing our state, our counties, our communities, and our Agency will continue to be profound and complex. We will continue to support the seniors of Humboldt and Del Norte, to work with other organizations and agencies to mitigate the impact of an uncertain economy, and to maximize our efforts to advocate for seniors and assist them as they advocate for themselves. We thank all those who share this commitment; all who dedicate their efforts and their resources to helping the most vulnerable among us. Their generous support will be vital as we work to preserve and enhance the quality of life of our aging family, friends and neighbors.

Our Programs and Services

Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Program

HICAP staff and volunteers, through free counseling sessions, workshops and public presentations, assist Medicare beneficiaries to make informed health care decisions. Counseling services provide a broad spectrum of Medicare information: introduction of options available to new beneficiaries; how to choose supplemental insurance coverage; analysis of supplemental Medicare program coverage; assistance with billing or enrollment problems; information about long-term care insurance; and guided comparison of Medicare prescription drug plans.

This year HICAP increased its capacity to support the growing senior populations of Humboldt and Del Norte counties through the expansion of its corps of volunteer counselors. Twelve trained volunteer counselors now augment the HICAP professional staff.

Significant changes to the Medicare program are anticipated in 2010. The HICAP team will be ready to help more than 30,000 Humboldt and Del Norte beneficiaries negotiate the complexities of this critical and ever-changing system.

Martha Johnson, HICAP Manager

Senior Information & Assistance Program

For Humboldt and Del Norte counties’ seniors and their families, caregivers and service providers, the Senior Information & Assistance (I & A) program is the recognized gateway for information that can provide critical help and support to those in need. Professional Resource Specialists are expert in the development and delivery of current, relevant, timely and useful information provided through face-to-face interviews, telephone interviews, appointments or unscheduled walk-in consultations during which they assess individual and family needs and organize referrals to appropriate resources.

Whether providing information to family members, ensuring access to emergency food and electricity for frail seniors, collaborating with other organizations to work against senior abuse and fraud, or partnering with federal, state and local agencies to ensure that isolated seniors maintain vital connections to their community, the I & A program remains committed to supporting the health, safety and independence of the seniors of Humboldt and Del Norte counties.

2009 Volunteer Recognition Celebration
The Area 1 Agency on Aging provided $575,000 in funding for the congregate (senior lunch sites) and home-delivered meal programs for seniors in Humboldt and Del Norte counties. Providers of senior lunch programs--Humboldt Senior Resource Center, Del Norte Senior Center, Healy Senior Center and K’ima:w Medical Center--prepared and served over 67,000 congregate meals and supplied more than 75,000 home-delivered meals.

Funding for these programs was reduced by 6% this year from 07-08 support levels resulting in a 2% reduction in the number of meals served. Nutritional programs, though strained by growing numbers of seniors needing home-delivered meals, successfully reduced both the numbers of seniors unable to participate in the programs and the amount of time seniors spent on lunch program waiting lists.

Debby Krzesni, Registered Dietitian

In addition to providing congregate and home-delivered meals:

- Nutrition education and information was presented in each congregate site informing 1103 people. Nutritional information was provided through written materials distributed to home-delivered meal clients.

- The Exercise is Medicine prescription pad was developed for use by physicians to evaluate and improve their senior patients’ commitment to exercise and physical activity.

- The Diabetes on a Budget program was offered in Fortuna, providing nutritional and food preparation information to older adults with diabetes and to those caring for diabetics.

“I didn’t want to go to the senior center for lunch, but when I did I found all of my high school friends here.”
